SENIORS

The Ancient Seniors

It was a small green Freshman and
A Senior proud stopped he,
Who paused, and looked, and wondered
"What can you want of me?"

The Freshman shook and shivered while
He contemplated flight.
He'd never be a football star,
It'd seem a rooster fight.

He sputtered and he stammered but
The Senior understood;
He wished a tale of "The School Life,"
For his own personal good.

"Ah well! you've come to one who knows
Our class has done it all;
You can't expect to be so great,
Your plans, perhaps, will fall.

"Yes we were once green Freshmen but
With Selleck at our head,
An education fine sought we;
We wished to be well read.

"We scratched our heads for Latin verbs,
A struggle hard had we;
For in our school the 'flu' germ flew
As big as any bee.

"And then as Sophomores we claimed
To be a plucky group;
We had the pep, the grit, the rep,
In fact, 'We were the Soup.'

"Thanksgiving, we ate pumpkin pie,
High did our spirits soar;
And all excited Winnie pushed
Her hand through a big glass door.

"On Christmas Eve old Santa called
And brought along a tree,
Nice presents then I gave to him
And he gave one to me.

"Ah! then we were the Juniors proud
The teachers, our old friends.
Say! Wallace passed in History,
He's making fine amends.

"One afternoon the girls had tea
Their mothers did invite.
And then another germ flew in—
Bad cases were in sight.

"The school went for a Shakespeare hike
And Kenneth took his Ford,
When e'er he stopped a can he placed
Below, tied to a cord.

"For gasoline poured out in streams;
A saving head had he.
But Em-Hi field day we woke up
And stopped the Seniors' spree.

"The Senior flag we tore it down
They could not fly it high.
And in the sports, we showed them all
The bacon we could fry.

"Then wise and dignified we took
Our title, that of 'Senior.'
You'd know us here, in France, in Heav'n
By our sincere demeanor.

"Some sizzling meat in glowing flames,
The shadows were our hosts;
Whoever dreamed of such rare sport
As Seniors on steak roasts.

"Toasters, toasters everywhere
And yet no toast to eat;
But with Titus and his finger bowl
Our banquet was complete.

"And now Commencement Days are o'er,
The end at last is here;
We stand with parchments in our hands
And know no worldly fear.

"We thought that 'twould be fine to leave
But now—it's not so swell,
A longing sigh goes with the words
We bid you fond farewell."

CLASS SONG

Tune: There'll Be a Hot Time In The Old Town Tonight.

When you're feeling sad and lonely,
And you know not what to do,
Come and join the Senior bunch,
You never know what they will do;
We will make this old school famous,
Put our town upon the map;
Come along and bring your pep,
We'll show the freshmen push and snap.

Chorus:

Seniors, Oh! We'll make our voices ring,
We'll all join in, just listen while we sing;
We will make things move, we'll let this old world see
We are the Seniors of Nineteen Twenty-three.

You can always hear us coming,
See our motto flying high,
For we are the greatest bunch
That ever left Emporia High;
Let's give nine big rahs for Denny,
He's a peppy president,
To our cries to "Keep things moving,"
Never is indifferent.

Chorus:

In all high school sports we're wonders,
Every athlete is a star,
And the faculty were victims
When our record they would mar;
We have gained just pecks of knowledge,
Teachers now are satisfied;
Underclassmen please take notice,
We're the Seniors dignified.

Chorus:

—WILMA GOODALL.

JUNIORS

JUNIOR II CLASS

The Junior Class

JUNIOR II

I am the Junior II class. Some class; although my fellow sister the Senior I class thinks that she is the one and only one.

But who would want to be a Senior I when they must be in my class. Some students like me so well that they stay with me for sometimes, two years. They, "Like the poor we have always with us."

This year I am made up of twenty-seven members. Fourteen boys and thirteen girls. Poor unlucky girls! Always worrying who must be courteous to the extra boy.

I have never attempted any great works of distinction yet I have had some prominence in a number of directions. Silvia Neill, my dramatic star, is one of the most popular members of the class. Frank Adams, with his cornet and Blenda Stubbs, with her remarkable voice have done much to "cheer up" E. H. S.

Socially I have been a bit bashful but I can point with assurance to my "cake eaters" and "Flapperinos," examples are: Lawrence Harlan, Claude Wagoner, John Maddern, Ray Overfield, Loren Barnett, Theodore Juengling, Lorena McCaw, Vernie Fisher and Ada Smith.

In athletics too, I have won distinction, for what I have lacked in numbers "Lefty" Marmont and "Slim" Campbell have supplied in quality. Warren Jones has done his bit as a substitute, and Oliver Roberts as cheer leader has lead the school in "pep."

As a class I cannot be called a book-worm, but nevertheless my intellectual attainments have been secure in the hands of Joyce Stubbs, Isa Huntsinger, Olive Jennings, Alice Fairchild, Lloyd Deskines, William Loveless, Robert Sutton and George Newcomber. While Holly McIlvain and Frances McNown, with their Titian hair, have done their part to brighten my class. Aline Martin my graceful toe-dancer has taken part in two plays, is a member of the Shakespeare club and secretary and treasurer of my class, and can think when she sets her head to it. She has aspirations for Vassar. Now do you blame me if "every day in every way I feel prouder and prouder that, I am the Junior II class?"

JUNIOR I

'Twas in Nineteen Nineteen—September,
Ah! well do we remember
When first we gathered in E. H. S.—
Somewhat chagrined, we will confess.

But soon our fears were overcome
And there was always heard a hum
Of merry voices in class rooms all,
And quite as often in the hall.

Now three short years have come and gone,
Each filled with glory and renown.
The Honor Roll we have supplied;
Upon our pep they have relied.

In athletics we have done our part,
With Zody and Marmont in football art;
While Clyde with lusty voice and mein
Led cheer on cheer, again and again.

The Y. W. C. A. claims most of our girls,
The Hi-Y our boys; O what a whirl.
With glee club, orchestra and band
In which we always have a hand.

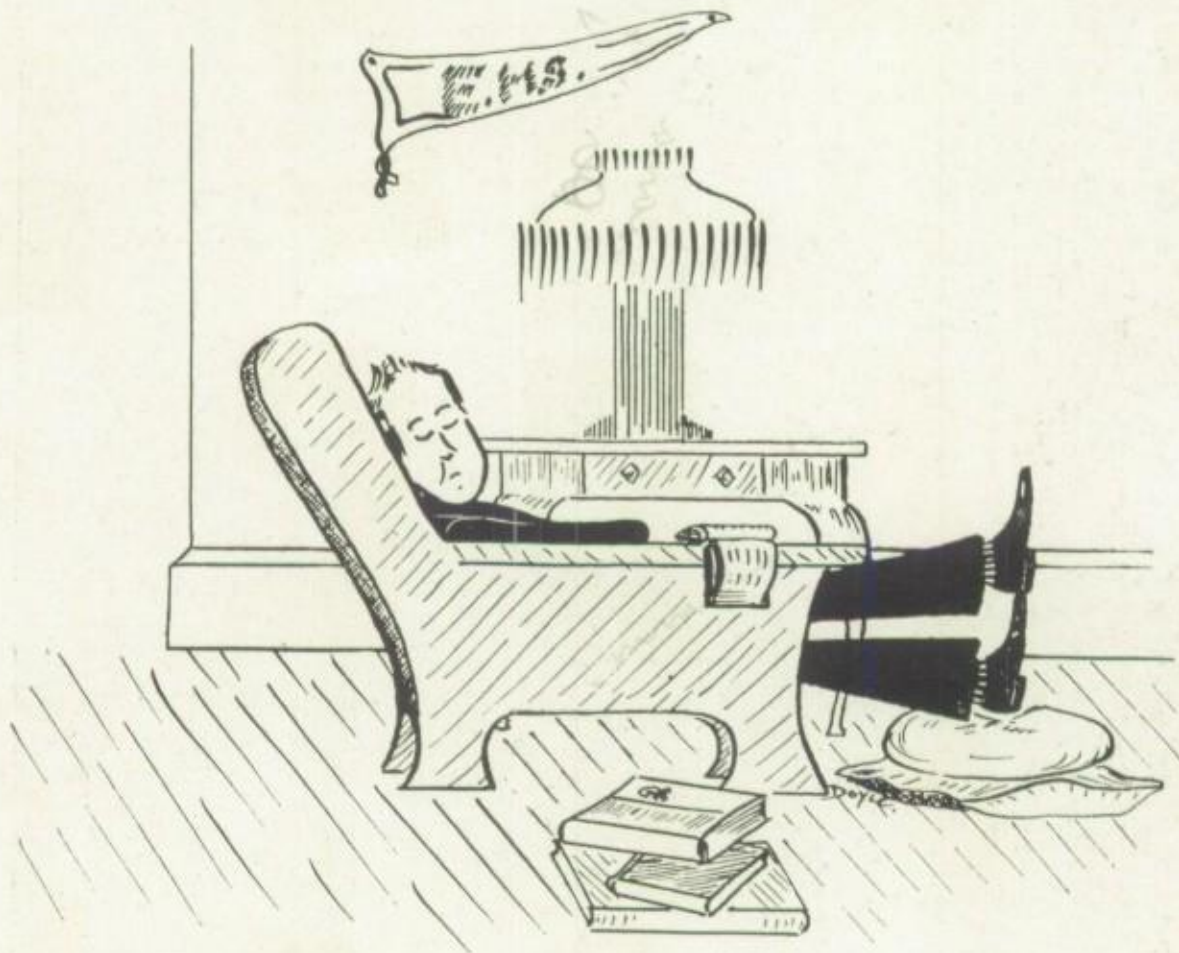

If you would ever doubt our worth
Just question Sirpless, Jackson, Hurt.
They'll tell you that of all the rest
There are none like the Junior E. H. S.

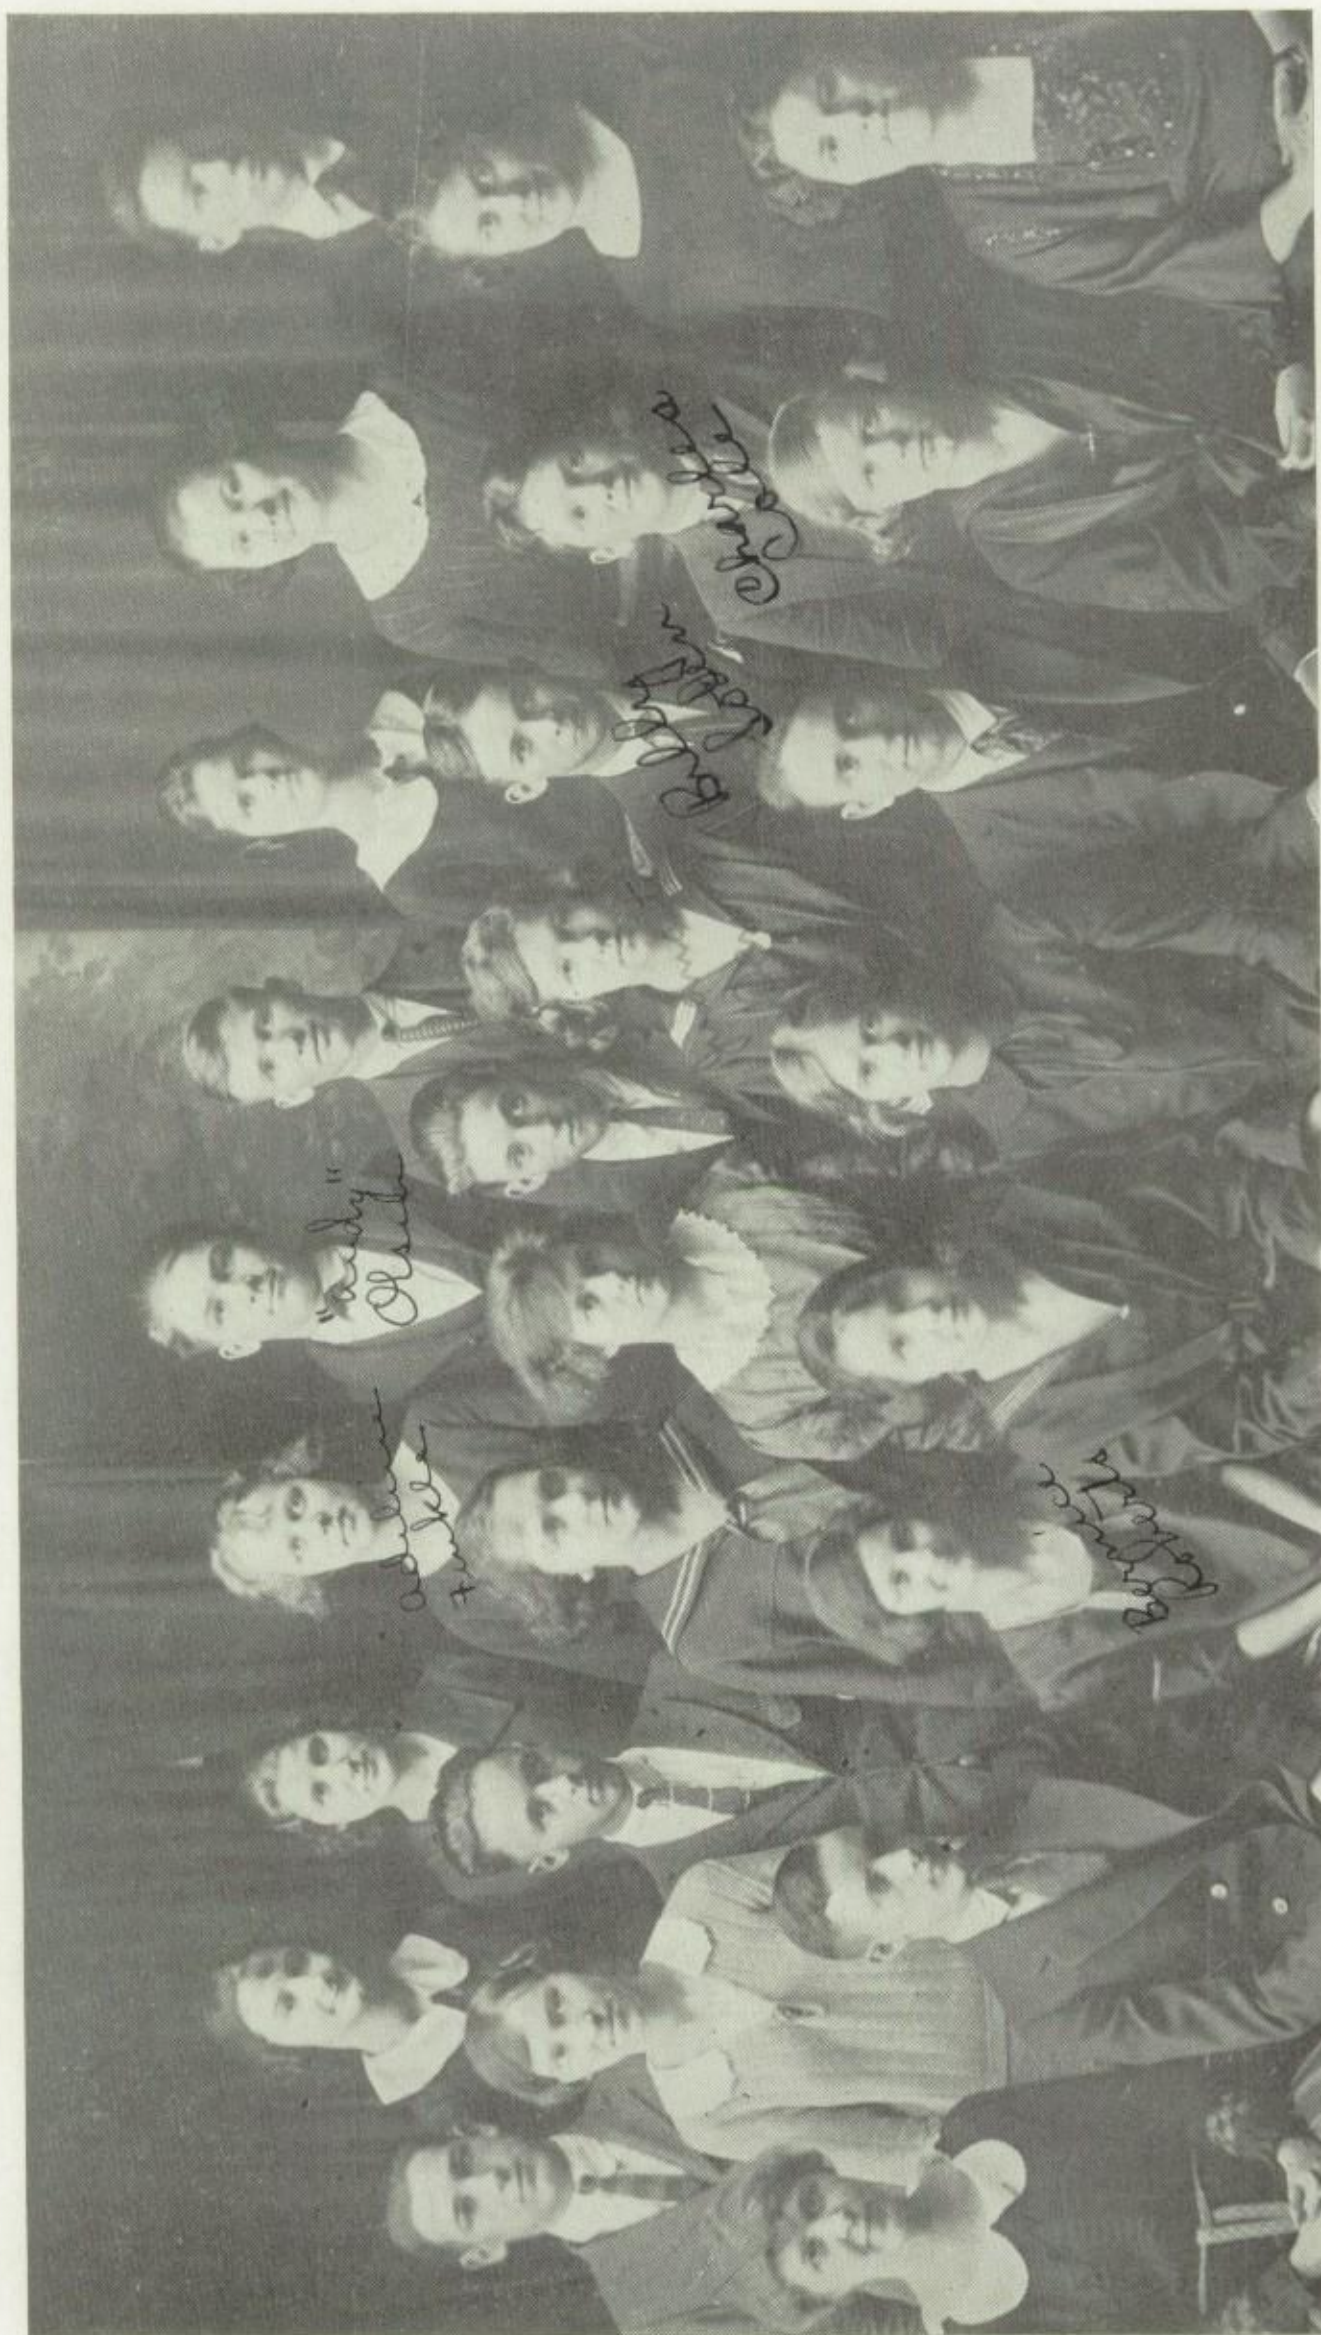

JUNIOR I CLASS

SOPHOMORES

Class of June '25

The Sophomore I's carry the honor of being the largest class in E. H. S., having an enrollment of one hundred thirty-one students.

After passing through the joys and trials of our Freshman year, we now stand at the brink of what we hope will prove a successful career through the Emporia High School.

We have four excellent advisors, Miss Thompson, Miss Wade, Miss Meeker, and Mr. Bashaw; a fine group of officers, Ashel West, president, and Lucille Denny, secretary-treasurer, and many students who show exceptionally good talents in various ways.

As we look into the future, we see a vision of a class whose members attend the school and class parties and meetings; who are strong boosters for athletics, and all school organizations; and last, but not least, which has a large percentage on the Honor Roll.

This class may always be found boosting its school along the road to progress to the heights of glory. Thus our ambition is to do our best for E. H. S. in studies, athletics, spirit, and organizations, that we may always be remembered as a class which has served its school.

SOPHOMORE

We all are happy Sophomores
In the year of '23.

Forgetful of each other
We will never be.

Oh! Sophomore class of E. H. S.
Proud of our class are we;

Happiest class of E. H. S.
We must ever be.

Everyone in the Sophomore class
Makes it a rule of his life to pass.

Happy, busy, gay and free
Sophomore class of '23.

We've had happy times together
And our hearts will never sever;

Teachers, friends, and class mates true
We will always think of you.

SOPHOMORE I CLASS

History of Sophomore I Class

(With due apology to Caesar)

The Emporia High School is divided into four parts, of which one part is the Seniors, another the Juniors, yet another the Sophomores and the fourth, the Freshmen. All differ among themselves in size, dress and knowledge.

Now of all the classes the members of the Sophomore class, especially the Sophomore I's, attract a great deal of attention, this however, being less than that of the Freshmen class as they have been the farthest removed from the culture and civilization of the Emporia High School. The Sophomore I class, having been organized in September 1921, Misses Secrest and Whitby, being their sponsors, began to take active part in school life.

In 1922 Mrs. Snyder and Mr. South were added as sponsors.

Many times have the Sophomores met around the camp fire, in various homes or the gymnasium for a lively frolic. If this were not so, the faculty might have given them better grades.

Those renowned among the Sophomore I's are: For brilliancy, Joe Dumm; for generalship, Haimers Lee; for curly hair, Dorothy Clogston; for bashfulness, Ted Newcomer; for fighting ability, Joe Cannon; for silence, Clifford Hush; for honesty, Overt Bible.

ALL IN THE STATE OF MIND

*If you think you're beaten, you are.
 If you think you dare not, you don't.
 If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
 It's almost a chinch you won't.
 If you think you'll lose, you're lost,
 For out in the world you find
 Success begins with a fellow's will;
 It's all in the state of mind.
 Full many a race is lost
 Ere ever a step is run;
 And many a coward fails
 Ere ever his work's begun.
 Think big, and your deeds will grow;
 Think small, and you'll fall behind;
 Think that you can, and you will.
 It's all in the state of mind.
 If you think you're outclassed, you are;
 You've got to think high to rise,
 • You've got to be sure of yourself before
 You can ever win a prize.
 Life's battles don't always go
 To the stronger or faster man,
 But soon or late the man who wins
 Is the fellow who thinks he can.*

Football Season

The coming of Coach Frazer to Emporia High School seems to have been a lucky strike. His popularity was instant and the boys gave him their best from the start.

The football season opened with an unusually large number of experienced men and with less than a month's practice, the squad walloped Eureka. In the second game, with Burlington, the squad showed the class and form which they sustained throughout the season.

Of the next three games, Lawrence, Iola, and Abilene; Iola was a walk-away, but Lawrence and Abilene were real tests of Emporia's mettle.

Our only goose egg of the season was graciously bestowed by Topeka.

Two tied scores were the next on the season's record—Manhattan and our time-honored enemy, Ottawa. The game with the latter will long be remembered by both teams as the muddiest of the season.

Our last game was with Marion in which we trimmed them 10-0, getting revenge for the opening game of 1921.

In honor of the brilliant success of the season, the boys were banqueted. Glenn Zody was elected captain for a start for another victorious season of 1923.

The football play, "Stop Thief," was a great success. As a result of its financial success the boys are all wearing new sweaters, trophies of their battles.

BASKET BALL GROUP

Basketball

The Emporia High School basket ball squad played eleven league games and five non-league games in the season of 1923.

After the first four league games, Iola, Baldwin, Garnett and Ottawa, Emporia took the lead in the league and kept it nearly to the end of the season.

Early in the season Carbaugh's goals had become the most spectacular feature of the Emporia games. Burlington's guards were the only ones in the league that could hold him down.

The highest score of the season was made in the return game with Garnett, 44-8. The two defeats by the league teams were suffered in the return games with Burlington and Ottawa. It was the latter game that gave Ottawa the lead in the league.

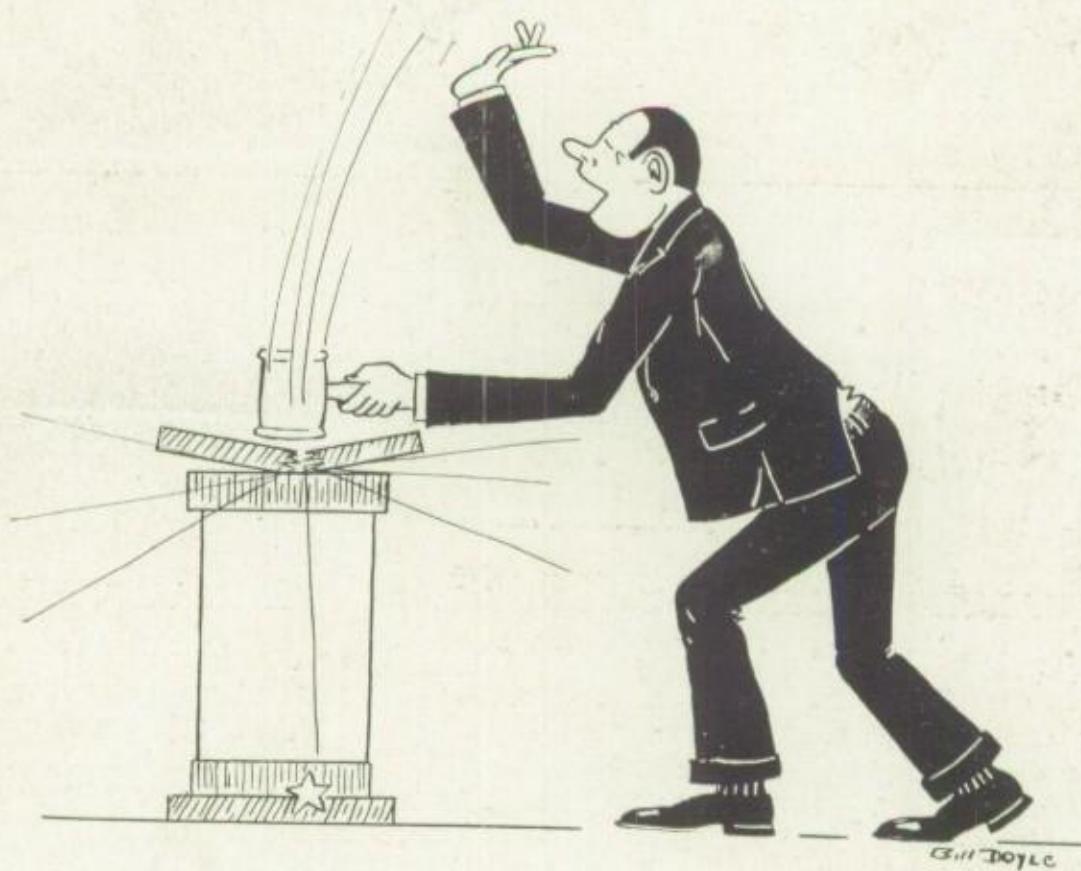

In the tournament at Lawrence, Emporia made a good fight, but went down in the second series, before the Hutchinson quintet.

Six non-league games were played during the season. The first, with Americus, was an easy victory, but Manhattan won one of two. Of the three played with Roosevelt High School, Emporia won the rubber game.

The post-season game, the Senior-Faculty game was the one in which all the real starring was done.

ECHO CLUB

Extra! Extra!!!

STARTLING ECHO RESOUNDS THROUGH E. H. S.

Eleven long years The Echo has resounded through the corridors of our school and through our homes with varying regularity. Eleven long years The Echo has sent back accounts of the daily happenings with varying accuracy. And for several years including this, the eleventh year, our Echo has reverberated not only through our school and city but through high schools, colleges, and universities of our state and other states. It has astonished all with a regularity that has caused everyone at the accustomed time of its recurrence to bend his ear eagerly to catch the accounts of our athletic feats, the accomplishments of our organizations, our successes, our mistakes, and our bits of humor, all reported with an accuracy that added many links to our chain of memories.

The Echo is, has been, and always will be, the staunchest booster of the High School for it heralds nothing but helpful and encouraging items about the students and teachers. No department is so small nor so unimportant but some worthy accomplishment is Echoed. No task deserving of praise is completed by any individual but his fame is spread by this wonderful Echo in its unique way of telling "Who's Who and What They Do."

In ancient times Echo, the daughter of Earth and Air, pined away heartbroken until nothing but her voice was left. Thus in our school life; our brilliant successes, our tragic moments our hours of joy will be gone, things of the past, and all that will remain will be The Echo, forever rebounding in the halls of our memories.

The Y. W. C. A. started its eighth year voyage last September and expects to reach port by May.

The object of the voyage has both pleasure and service. The special features were: The Christmas Party for Children, the Hi-Y-Y. W. C. A. parties, the Mother-Daughter dinner. In April three girls initiated the Council Grove club. Twenty girls put on a demonstration of the membership recognition service for the training course given by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. for College girls. This was repeated for the City Board. Miss Marjorie Stickney, a Girl Reserve Secretary, made one visit to the club. The name Girl Reserve has been added to our former one and forty girls are working for the G. R. ring. Recently the term program was printed and the work has been completed to make the Emporia Club eligible for the honor list of Standard Clubs.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

HI-Y CLUB

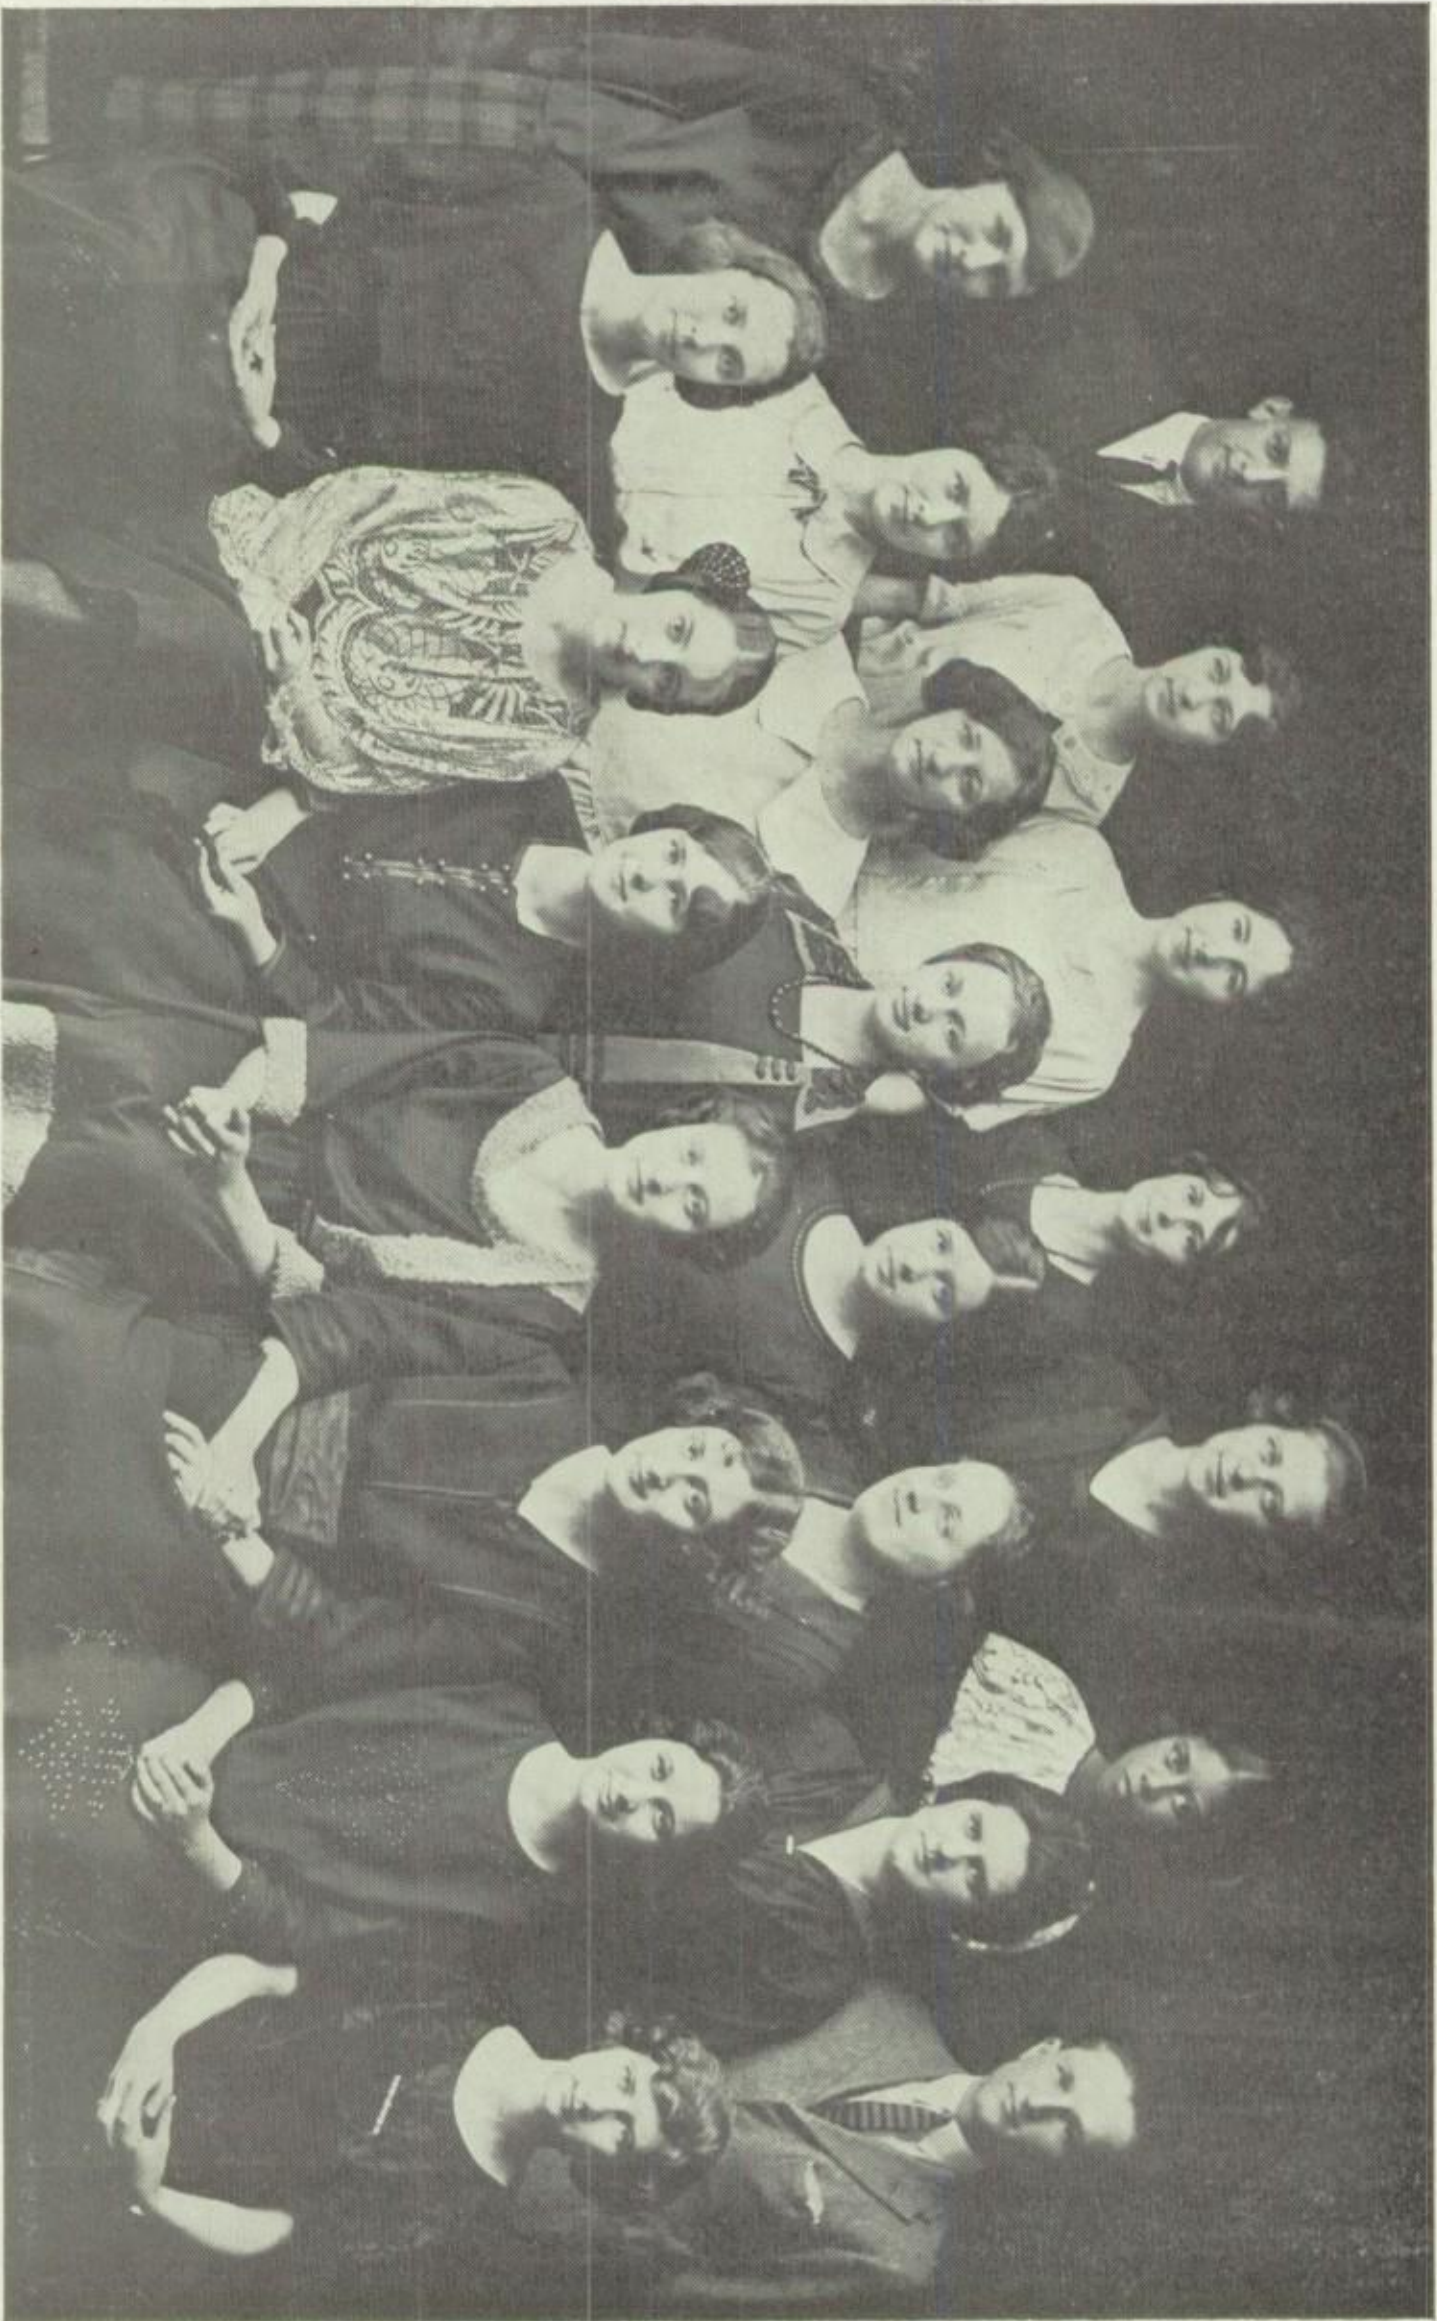

Hi-Y Club

The High School Y. M. C. A. is organized to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, higher standards of Christian living." With such an objective, every boy in school should feel it an honor to belong to the organization. Every Senior should seek to make the school a better institution before graduating. Every Junior should realize his responsibility in elevating and maintaining the ideals of the school. Every Sophomore and Freshman should early adopt a program of four-fold development with increasing emphasis on character building. It is for the promotion of these ideals that the High School Y. M. C. A. stands.

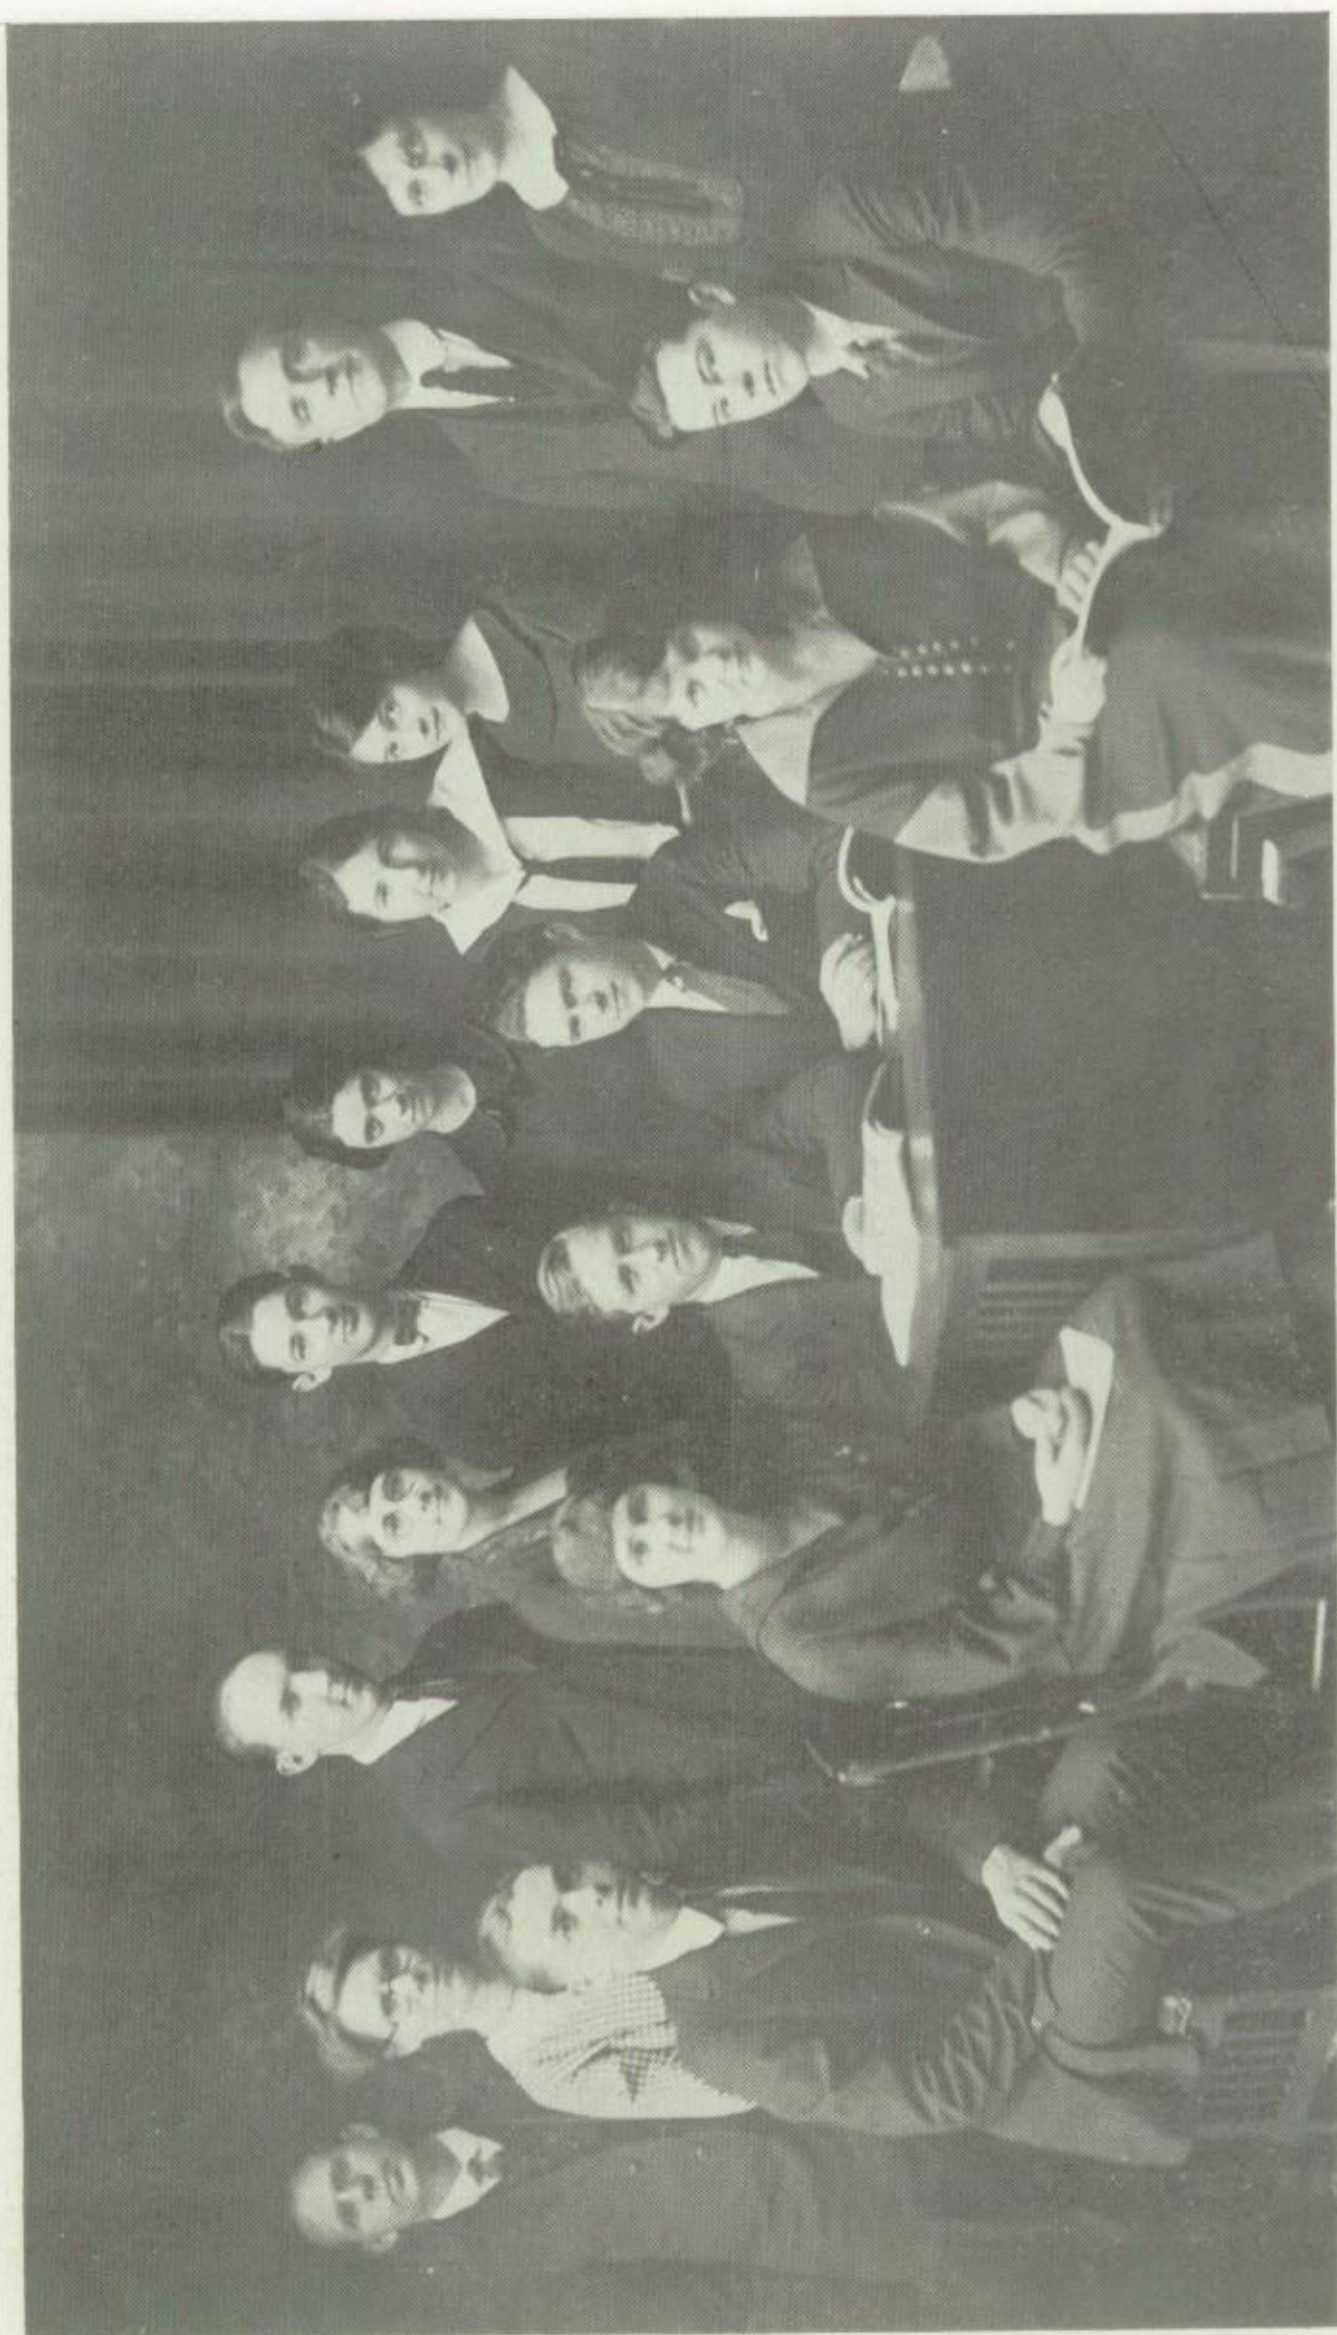

The past year has been a successful one for the Club. During the first semester, Bible study and discussion of boys' problems filled the program, while "Eats" once each week and a joint meeting with the Y. W. C. A. provided social times. During the second semester, the boys entered actively into the evangelistic campaign and were rewarded by seeing a large number of the E. H. S. boys "hit the sawdust trail." Following this, two Bible study groups were organized under the leadership of Mr. Paxton and Judge Richardson—two of the leading business men of Emporia. The fellowship "Eats" were continued and a second social meeting was held with the Y. W. C. A. Several boys are planning to attend the Hi-Y Camp at Camp Wood.

The officers for this year and next are:

Dale Scheel	-----President-----	Leland Richardson
Clyde Merideth	-----Vice-President-----	Joe Dumm
Harold Endley	-----Secretary-----	Clyde Merideth

RE-ECHO STAFF

Re-Echo Staff

The staff has worked very hard during the year trying to make this 1923 Re-Echo a success. We have made many mistakes but perhaps you who read these lines would not criticize us so harshly if you realized what a big task it is to put out an annual that everybody likes.

There are others whose names do not appear on our staff who have done much to make it a success. Miss Luce has given much advice and help to the art editors. Sarah Thomas and Edward Ryan have also helped with the art work. Hazel Trowbridge has helped a great deal in gathering material for the annual. Ellen Nielsen, Edna McClure, Lucile Marks and Anna Jacobs have helped by typewriting material for us.

We appreciate the help Mr. Chase has given us in mounting pictures and in the art work on the panels and picture pages.

With all these helping we could still have done very little if it had not been for the assistance and encouragement given us by our faculty advisers. Miss Held and Miss Douglass have given much time and thought in working out the details of the book and everything has reverted back to Mr. Titus who has been our general manager.

We are deeply grateful to all these who have so willingly cooperated with us and we hope our readers will not be disappointed in our efforts.

Shakespeare Dramatic Club

There are 147 members in the Shakespeare Club. The officers for the year '23 are:

LLOYD HERSHBERGER	-----	President
CLYDE MEREDITH	-----	Vice-President
RICHARD DRAKE	-----	Treasurer
CHARLES MOHLER	-----	Treasurer
WINIFRED BRATTON	-----	Secretary
MISS SECREST	-----	Faculty Adviser

The first meeting was held in the auditorium September 19, 1922. The Club met every other Tuesday at 2:45 in the auditorium. Miss Secrest was the director and sponsor of the Club. In November, two sketches were given, one entitled "The Wrong Package," and the other, "The Overall Club." Members of the Club were chosen for the casts. In December a two-act play was given called "Three Girls From School." In January the annual Shakespeare Club play was given. A three-act farce entitled "The Wrong Mister Wright," written by George Broadhurst. The cast of characters was:

Seymour Sites, who assumes the name of Mr. Wright	-----	Clyde Meredith
Wayland Clingstone, one of the boys of long ago	-----	Carl Berg
Frederick Bonds, Sites' nephew	-----	Samuel Tressler
Captain Crosby	-----	Leo Denny
Lord Brazenface, from the old country	-----	Paul Hunt
Front, who runs the hotel	-----	Frank Furman
David Clews, a fearless detective	-----	Lloyd Hershberger
Policeman	-----	Leland Richardson
Policeman	-----	Philip Hughes
Julia Bonds, Sites' niece	-----	Alice McCue
Tillie Bird, Miss Bonds' maid	-----	Aline Martin
Arabella Clingstone, and unappropriated angel	-----	Winifred Bratton
Henrietta Oliver, a "fin de siecle" detective	-----	Florence Hensley

On February 26 a sketch entitled "Spreading the News" was given in the auditorium. On February 25 it was given for the Women's City Club, in the High School Auditorium.

Football Banquet

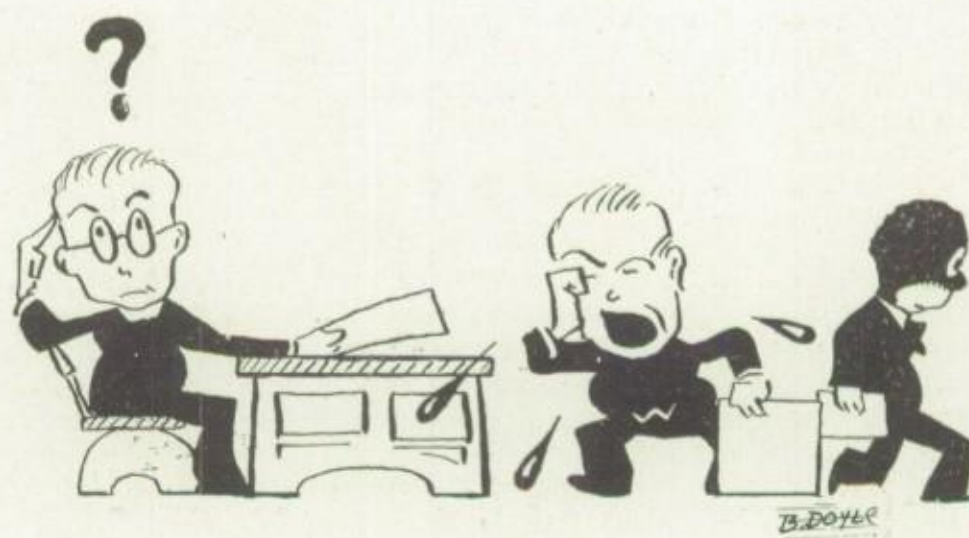

The year rolled round and the fans of the football field gathered again at the festive board of the Annual Football Banquet held in honor of the football squad of Emporia High School on December 12, 1922, in the High School building. The decorations were carried out in Christmas red and green. The menu cards and place cards were illustrated with cuts of football scenes.

The dinner was prepared and served by girls of the Domestic Science classes, directed by Miss E. May Hancock.

Oliver Roberts, cheer leader, was toastmaster. The program was opened with the song, "Fight on Emporia," by the fans. The following toasts were given: "Kick-off," Captain Glenn Campbell, but the Captain had previously gone to a foreign city and didn't catch the home-coming train, (our captain who could always catch the uncertain pigskin ball but couldn't catch the scheduled train!) and wasn't at the dinner. His place was creditably filled by Claude Arnold. "Line Plunge," Lloyd Hershberger; "Forward Pass," by Leo Denny; "Touchdown," Kenneth Carbaugh; "Try for Points," Coach Roy Frazer; "The Ties," Miss Gertrude Smalley. Miss Florine Richards sang "In Italy," and "You in a Gondola," with the piano accompaniment by Miss Dorothy Hyde. The High School song, "Hail to the Red and Black," by the guests closed the program.

The guests of honor were: Robert Hatcher, Harry Thomas, Lanson Mayes, Glenn Zody, Edward Hutton, Kenneth Carbaugh, Frank Lattin, Michael Drake, Glenn Campbell, Carl Marmont, Everett Fish, Leo Denny, Lloyd Hershberger, Warren Jones, Lee Davis, Leslie Horn, Robert Smith, Claude Arnold, members of the football squad; Roy Frazer, coach, and Mrs. Frazer; Oliver Roberts and Clyde Merideth, cheer leaders.

Keeping Faith

It is our experience that the way to keep customers is to keep faith with them.

People do not expect something for nothing, but they do want a square deal. When they get it they show their appreciation by their continued patronage.

We are trying to attract a big volume of business by deserving it, which means that we are trying to give good value and to render real service.

That is our standard and any help that may be given us in maintaining it by constructive criticism of our products, our methods or our service will be appreciated.

Fifty-six years ago Theodore Poehler started a wholesale grocery business in Lawrence, Kansas. His idea of good merchandising embraced three essential elements—

Good Service—High Quality—Reasonable Prices

To this day the Theodore Poehler Mercantile Company has adhered steadfastly to these principles and, with the growth and enlargement of its business, it will continue to adhere to them.

Our products are marked under three brands:

CAST OF CHARACTERS

King (whose word is law when he can make himself heard) ----- Leo Denny
Countess (ever anxious about her children) ----- Miss Douglass
Bertram (the hero of many) ----- Don Anderson
Helena (forever his slave) ----- Helen Batchelor
Diana (the delayed treasurer) ----- Alice McCue
Jester ----- Kenneth Carbaugh
Lafen (ready with advice) ----- Mr. Titus

King: (Above din and clamor of the court) Come along here. I've no time to monkey.
Lend me your ears.

Countess: Bertram, your father was ever virtuous and his life should hold good inspiration for you. Display your courtesy.

Bertram: I am to learn.

Lafen: Silence reign for one brief instant. Expose your affairs.

King: By my troth, my little body is aweary of this great task.

Jester: And were your tasks no greater than your body is little, in sooth, I say it could not make you sad yet you say it makes you tired.

King: Hush, fool! Now listen all. Important business comes before us all. As is the custom we must remind ourselves of our past years and have a real class day.

Bertram: Ah! something quite exciting, sir.

Ladies: Yes, yes sir.

Helena: It must be real original, displaying great wisdom and great wit.

Jester: A holiday, let's cut classes.

King: (in raised voice) There should be a chapel to cap off the day.

Countess: Yes, each one willing could do his part and our talent and ability will aid us.

Helena: A speech from Bertram would be quite the thing.

Bertram: I'm really out of practice, but of course if you all—

King: (louder) Order! I crave silence so that we may hear each other speak.

Lafen: A few could match their wits and plan. A committee should be named.

King: Who would attempt to carry out this scheme?

Jester: In sooth, you bet I will, my lord.

Bertram: And I, I crave the job.

Ladies: Yes, yes, we also.

King: (pounding on table) A summons will be sent to those who are to serve.

Bertram: I wish this bit of information. I greatly need and wish to know if any will lend to me a copy of Dickens's Oliver Twist.

Helena: Is that the latest book out?

Jester: She's very literary.

King: Last meeting the great Bertram was charged to obtain a warning to all Seniors. He will deliver it now.

Bertram: (confused) I have it not sir. I—

Helena: My lord, read this.

Bertram: (reading)

TEN LITTLE SENIORS

Ten little seniors standing in line
One flunked in chemistry, then there were nine.
Nine little seniors playing with fate
One lost his physics book, then there were eight.
Eight little seniors hoping for heaven,
One couldn't remember dates, then there were seven.
Seven little seniors in an awful fix
One stood up and took the blame, then there were six.
Six little seniors very much alive
One didn't know grammar, then there were five.
Five little seniors wishing there were more
One got stuck in Caesar, then there were four.
Four little seniors went on a spree
One stayed up too late, then there were three.
Three little seniors with nothing to do
One got lazy, and then there were two.
Two little seniors, not no more fun
One got chicken-pox, then there was one.
One little senior crying all alone
His playmates have left him, he wants to go home.

Lufen: A worthy bit of advice. Take heed.

All: That we will.

King: But enough of this. Our treasury in most surprising condition is. An account is demanded.

(A pause)

Helena: She is prevented from appearing. The time was set but now is passed. I know not where our treasurer is.

King: Fool, get thee gone and bring her here.

(Exit Jester—re-enter immediately with Diana)

Jester: Behold here! I did not fail.

Diana: Sir, I humbly do desire your grace of pardon for I was far distant in my Ford. The dark clouds came, the rain appeared and I was in mud, stepped in so far that should I go no more, returning were as tedious as go o'er.

Bertram: Here! Here! But just account for your accounts. Our ears await the delayed records of our gold.

Diana: I have it here. My lord, behold.

King: What is this which I see before my eyes, it is a phantom of some wealthy ruler's book. I do hold that we are well paid and should therefore be well satisfied with our finances.

Diana: 'Tis true, we find in our chest thirty-seven dollars.

Jester: Marry, marry by the sweet power of gold, eats we will have and such a class day.

Bertram: Ah yes, and also our colors we'll display.

King: Nay, nay a timely message from Mr. Brown has saved us from a dreadful blunder.

Jester: A fight, a fight, my kingdom for an old fashioned class fight. Life is not what it used to be.

Lufen: Disorder must be prevented. Let us discontinue our discussions and begone.

King: We will adjourn but I desire to meet the boys—well after the girls have gone.

(CURTAIN)

My Diploma

My diploma—what does it mean to me—to you fellow Senior, for my diploma means your diploma? Figuratively speaking, it is that bit of parchment given to each one of us as evidence that we “have run the race and have finished the course.”

In future years, when I look at my diploma what will it represent to me? What will it recall to my mind? When I pick it up and look it over among my first thoughts will be remembrances of my High School days.

Reviewing one of these days in my mind, I will be reminded of the way in which the school day began—with a hurry and a rush to get to school. Then, on arriving at school of hearing Mr. Brown's voice echoing down the corridor in his regular morning call, “Hurry up folks into your class rooms its nearly time for the bell.” This sounded funny to me if I had plenty of time, but if I was late I thought, “Oh! What a useless waste of time to go to the office now.” I think, perhaps I felt somewhat like the little boy, who five minutes after the tardy bell had sounded, was seen by the principal scampering toward the first grade room. The principal called out, “Come here young man I want to speak to you.” But the little boy rushed on, and breathlessly replied, “Ain't got time to talk to you now, I'm late enough already.”

As the school day progresses in my mind's eye I will remember some of the happy times I had in school as well as some of the sadder moments. Most especially will I remember that tragical hour when I nearly failed in Chemistry.

I will remember the noise and confusion of the period between classes—the notes exchanged and the little chats at my locker which were often interrupted by Mr. Nichol's voice inquiring, “Where do you belong this hour?”

I will remember some of the happy friendships formed, often developing into “cases” and I believe several life time contracts have been signed as a result of High School days together.

Today—My diploma serves as an introduction to my future work. Without it I would be unable to secure certain kinds of employment which I might desire to obtain. It introduces me to a better life, one that I will enjoy to a greater degree than the one I would have enjoyed had I not received it. Although the obtaining of my diploma has cost me many hours of hard work and study. I have enjoyed those hours and I would not recall them from my life, under any consideration.

And now, perhaps the greatest thing that my diploma will remind me of will recall to my mind our Senior year with its events of hikes, picnics, the Senior Play, the Commencement Exercises and the Senior Banquet of tonight.

The Senior Banquet of the Class of 1923 will be one of the bright spots in my memory all of my life, and I in behalf of the Senior II's wish to extend our thanks and gratitude to you, the Senior I's, for the honor and welcome so cordially extended to us. Although greater receptions may be given in our honor, I think in recalling those receptions the Senior Banquet of the Class of 1923 will rank first, due to the happy time experienced.

Again—accept our thanks and appreciation for the long to be remembered “Senior Banquet of 1923.”
